

FRIDAY, JANUARY 30, 1885.

Mr. E. M. Howe, of Norway, is an authorized agent of the Advertiser, and any favors shown him will be duly appreciated by the editor and publisher.

Enoch L. Eastman of Sweden has been nominated by Gov. Robie for trial justice.

We are to begin next week a series of sketches, "Reminiscences of the Lake Country," by Mark Tapley.

Mr. Geo. H. Watkins, the genial editor of the Oxford Democrat, is soon to become the happy husband of Miss Edna Atwood of Buckfield. Their bridal tour will take in the Exposition at New Orleans. Our best wishes go with them.

"John Topham," our Greenwood scribe, writes an article for the "House-keeper department," in which he sets forth his manner of cooking. John is a marvellous and possessed of a good disposition, a fine farm and all the worldly wealth to make life agreeable. It is a surprise to those who would persist in doing his own cooking. The article will appear in due time and will be read with undivided interest by the far sex. Should any of them desire to learn his methods of housekeeping they can apply in person or address a letter to him asking for a bill of particulars.

The building occupied by the Maine Wood Turning Co., Livermore Falls, was set on fire Thursday night or Friday morning of last week. Some one climbed up on the roof of the shed, broke a pane of glass in a window and, reaching in, turned the gas valve on, and entered by the window. Some things were kerosene and fire set under a sorting table, but for some reason the fire went out. The mill was filled with inflammable material, and had the fire burnt it would doubtless have done a great deal of damage, as the thermometer was considerably below zero, and a strong wind was blowing.

We notice that Judge Enoch Foster was banqueted at the Saco House one evening recently, by the members of the York County Bar. This is probably the first instance of such a social and festive gathering since the late lamented Justice was thus honored. We do not call to mind a similar occurrence. We question the propriety of adopting the glittering splendor of a banquet hall as a just measurement of bench popularity. It may be that Judge Foster is a banquet in his own person. He is a man of high character, of high ability and of high standing in the community. He is a man of high character, of high ability and of high standing in the community. He is a man of high character, of high ability and of high standing in the community.

Oxford County has received $25 for bounty on bears during the past year. Among the petitions and remonstrances that were presented to the Legislature last week Wednesday was one for changing the time of holding court in Oxford County, and to establish an additional term of court.

An entertainment was given at the town hall on the evening of Jan. 28th by the ladies of the Congregational Church, in aid of the Sabbath School. It consisted of singing, recitations, tableaux, pantomimes and music by the Andover brass band. The parts were well rendered and every one left the hall feeling well paid for having attended the band never played better.

Of late the thermometer has varied from 20° to 30° below zero in various parts of the town.

The supposed fire on the night of the recent wind was the burning out of a chimney in Mr. Bodwell's house.

E. E. Deibel has been to the Lakes the past week. It was business not pleasure that turned Elijah's steps in that direction.

"Mac" is the smartest man among us. Although he is seventy-five years old, he has the heart and mind of a young man.
